Messrs. B. Venkatasubbannachar, Agumbi Rama Rao, Thammayya Bhatta and Ramannagowda, Tirthahalli taluk.

Summary of discussion.—The improvement and extension of the Tirthahalli town has been very much retarded for want of a bridge across the Tunga river. As a bridge is absolutely necessary in the rainy season not only for vehicular traffic but also for the passage of men from one portion of the town to the other, a permanent bridge or at least a causeway might be caused to be constructed across the river.
